Notes:

* Lower division history courses may be taken in any order. Prerequisites do apply within GE Areas and to upper-division History courses.

 Or beginning level Foreign Language (FR, GER, MLL [Chinese], SPAN, or other languages approved by the History Department) taken as elective. Students with fewer than three years of high school instruction in the chosen language should start at an earlier level before attempting 121. See advisor for information.

History majors take 35 units of electives and 24 units of upper-division support courses, the latter of which may include upper-division history courses. If upper-division GE courses are counted as support courses, the number of free elective units is increased to reach the minimum 180 units total.
