

Parallelism and Consistency

Find the two parallel, consistent discussions:

Rover has a golden brown, short-haired coat. He weighs approximately 75 lbs. Rover's 4-inch long ears have rounded edges and hang below his jawline. He has brown eyes and a black nose. He enjoys dog bones and walking in the rain.

Mutt came from a kennel. We enjoy his bubbly personality and taking him 4-wheeling. He weighs about 65 lbs. and he has shaggy black and white fur. We think he is a border collie mix.

Duke is a Sharpé. Sharpés come from Asia. They have black skin and tongues. Usually they have pointy ears and a long coat. Although they do not become as large as Newfoundlands, they can become aggressive at times. Duke, however, only wants to play. He will give anyone he meets a big wet kiss. Because of his wonderful, loving personality, we are considering getting another Sharpé. A good one will cost approximately $700.

Prince has black and white fur and weighs about 35 lbs. His ears, about 3 ½ inches high, stand up straight. He has one blue eye and one brown eye. He also has a black nose. For fun, he sneaks into the bathroom to drink the water and chases cars. We got Prince from our neighbor. He came from a litter of 8 puppies.

Fifi has a white curly coat that we keep trimmed to 1 1/2 inches. She weighs in at about 20 lbs and has droopy, rounded, three-inch ears, that reach about halfway down her face. She has brown eyes and a black nose. She enjoys milkshakes and visiting fire hydrants on her daily walks. Only Fifi has her tail cut into a pompom.
